Fifth Sunday after Pentecost – July 10, 2022 (8:30am)

Centering Words – (Amos 7, Luke 10)

God sets a plumb line to judge where our heart lies and how we care for our neighbor. Jesus tells the parable of the Good Samaritan to teach us how our actions mismatch our faithful convictions. Let us faithfully live in the freedom and liberties our Lord provides.

Call to Worship:

Love the Lord your God with all your heart and all your soul.

With all our strength and mind, we worship the God,
the One we love.

Love your neighbor as yourself and freely share God's message of hope.

We will open our mouths and our hearts to all God's children.
